

Faculty Information

SUZUKI Yasushi

■ Division:

International Public Administration (IPA)
Development Economics (DE)

■ Research Area:

Institutional Economics, Political Economy, Theories of Rent-seeking, Corruption, Property Right, Public Finance, Financial Development, Comparative Financial Systems (Japan, US, China, Islamic Finance and Microcredit), Development Economics, Energy Security, Political Philosophy, Philosophy of Economics (Social Justice), International Economic Law

■ Research Methods:

Quantitative and Qualitative Analyses, Comparative Analyses

■ Seminar Topic and Keywords:

Depends on the seminar members' research interest. Topics in the past (just for your reference): China's Financial system, Energy and Environment (Fall 2022), Japan's financial slump (Spring 2022), Hirschman's view on 'Exit, Voice and Loyalty' (Spring 2021), Typology of Rents and Rent-seeking (Spring 2020), Changing the Growth Model in China (Spring 2019), and so on.

■ Seminar Teaching Method:

Critical Readings & Discussion

■ Possible Research Topics for Students:

Any topic related to, in a broad sense, Political Economy and Policy Science.

■ Comments: