

“ Contributors ”

“ Berger, Maiko ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Maiko Berger is Assistant Professor at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. She coordinates the Pre-Intermediate English course, study abroad programs, and pre-enrollment education at APU. Her research interests include teacher education, language policy, and study abroad programs.

“ Haswell, Christopher G. ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Chris Haswell is Senior Lecturer in the Center for Language Education at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University, specializing in listening strategies and TOEFL skill based lectures. He is currently studying for a PhD in sociolinguistics with a focus on Asian learners of English.

“ Itabashi, Tamiko ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Tamiko Itabashi is Junior Lecturer in Japanese at the Center for Language Education, Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. Her research interests include Second Language Acquisition, Second Language Writing, and Language Testing.

“ Itai, Yoshie ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Yoshie Itai is a part-time lecturer in Japanese at the Center for Language Education, Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. Among the courses she has taught are Introduction to Japanese and Intermediate Japanese. She has conducted research in the areas of independent learning of kanji and vocabulary and analysis of Japanese conversation. Itai is strongly interested in learning motivation and autonomy.

“ Jubilado, Rodney C. ”

*University of Malaya
Malaysia*

✎ Rodney C. Jubilado is Lecturer in Tagalog and General Linguistics at the Faculty of Languages and Linguistics, University of Malaya. His research areas are contemporary general linguistics and historical linguistics.

“ Katayama, Tomoko ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Tomoko Katayama has been Lecturer in Japanese at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University since 2000. Besides teaching Introduction to Japanese, Intermediate Japanese and Advanced Japanese, she coordinates intermediate and advanced Japanese programs.

“ Li Xiaojie ”

*Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University
Japan*

✎ Li Xiaojie is a part-time lecture in Chinese at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. Her research interests include the study of the Brontë sisters and language teaching methodology.

“ Ong Shyi Nian ”

*University of Malaya
Malaysia*

✎ Ong Shyi Nian is Senior Lecturer in the Japanese Language and Linguistics at the Faculty of Languages and Linguistics, University of Malaya. His research areas are loanwords, morphology of Malay and Japanese and translations.

|                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| “ Shimizu, Akiko ” Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University Japan | ✎ Akiko Shimizu is Senior Lecturer in the Center for Language Education, Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. She is interested in JFL, especially in oral communication skills/proficiency.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| “ Shin, Kimie ” Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University Japan    | ✎ Kimie Shin teaches Introduction to APU, Workshop I &amp; II and FIRST for first-year students, while involved with TA training as an academic advisor. She also plays a key role in organizing a volunteer program called FLAG which provides student-led guidance and orientation sessions for newcomers to the university.                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| “ Shinabe, Naomi ” Pompeu Fabra University Spain             | ✎ Naomi Shinabe’s research interests include Teaching Japanese and Spanish as Foreign Languages and Discourse Analysis. She taught Japanese-Spanish Translation at Salamanca University’s International Courses in 2001 and Elementary and Intermediate Spanish at Asia University in 2008. She earned her BA in Education from Waseda University, her MA in Teaching Spanish as a Foreign Language from Salamanca University and is currently writing her PhD thesis at Pompeu Fabra University in Barcelona. |
| “ Sumida, Tamaki ” Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University Japan | ✎ Tamaki Sumida is Associate Professor in the Center for Language Education at Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. She has taught various Japanese levels, including Japanese Foundation Course, Advanced Japanese, and Applied Japanese.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
| “ Wang, Zhenyu ” Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University Japan   | ✎ Wang Zhenyu is Junior Lecturer in Chinese at the Center for Language Education, Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. He has obtained his PhD in Linguistics. His research interests include Chinese linguistics and language teaching methodology.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| “ Zhang, Wenqing ” Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University Japan | ✎ Zhang Wenqing is Senior Lecturer in Chinese at the Center for Language Education, Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University. In addition to researching on her major field of environment and energy, Zhang has been writing extensively on Chinese Grammar and Language Teaching Methodology in recent years. Zhang Wenqing has been teaching Chinese in Japan for over ten years.                                                                                                                                |