Minnesota State University Moorhead

Welcome

Minnesota State University Moorhead is a student centered University that treats students as individuals with different experiences and aspirations. Our tuition, which is among the most affordable in the region, and our instructional quality combine to create an outstanding higher education value. Our international student enrollment includes 400+ graduate and undergraduate students from 57 countries.

Explore Fargo-Moorhead

Fargo-Moorhead is a diverse, thriving metropolitan area with a population of approximately 200,000. Often referred to as a 'big-little city', Fargo-Moorhead provides the cultural benefits of a metropolitan lifestyle, such as diverse dining options, excellent mass transit, a rich arts community and frequent sporting events, along with the community feel of a smaller town. With one of the lowest unemployment rates in the country, a consistently low crime rate and affordable housing, Fargo-Moorhead is an attractive destination for college students as well as anyone looking to start or advance their career or begin a family.

Outstanding Faculty and Staff

Our faculty members take exceptional pride in their teaching, and creative work. MSUM has more faculty members who have received prestigious awards and recognition than faculties at comparable universities. For example, we have had more Carnegie Foundation State Professors of the Year than any other higher education institution in Minnesota or in any neighboring state. Only fourteen campuses in the nation have as many.

Accreditations

Accredited by the Higher Learning Commission and member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools. The MSU Moorhead School of Business has earned AACSB International Accreditation, which is less than 5 percent of the world's business schools achieve. Additional areas of accreditations include: Speech Language Hearing Science, Athletic Training and Teacher Education.

Most of our classes are small enough for students to know their professors. Faculty members in many disciplines have had good success in securing competitive grants for research and creative activity. Finally, many of our faculty committees actively examine and work to continually improve all aspects of the teaching and learning experience. Our staff members are similarly highly recognized for their service to the campus, our community, and our state.
